THE SOCIAL CIRCLE

Mr. and Mrs. J. Charles Green, Miss Gibbons, Master Green and Mrs. Kate Harker, formed a jolly party leaving on the Mauna Kea Tuesday morning. The party were most enthusiastic over the display of Madam Pele. Mr. Green took his seven-seater touring car with him and has the distinction of making the record trip from Hilo to the Volcano House in one hour and twenty-seven minutes. After a few hours' rest the party went to the volcano on horseback, spending the afternoon and evening at the crater's edge. Supper was served and the coffee made over the steam fissures, which was naturally a novelty for the visitors. The party returned by moonlight to the hotel. In the morning all were taken to the different points of interest and Mr. Green was proud to know that his car was the first one that has made a successful trip over the road leading to the tree moulds and mahogany groves.

Judge Stanley announces the engagement of his sister Katherine to Mr. Claudius Lindsay M. Watson.

Tuesday Judge and Mrs. Dole entertained at luncheon. The guests who enjoyed Mr. and Mrs. Dole's hospitality were Mr. and Mrs. Tenney Peck, Judge and Mrs. Selden Kingsbury and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Walker.

Mrs. Corwin Rees is now convalescent after an illness at the Queen's Hospital. This social favorite's room, has been a veritable flower garden during her illness, her many friends thus in other ways showing their sympathy and good will.

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Knudsen gave a charming New Year's Eve dance at their home on Kaula. Over sixty guests were present, and all voted the affair a great success.

Mr. William Montrose Graham is on the island of Hawaii on a business trip and will not return for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hedemann entertained Sunday evening at dinner, in honor of Mrs. Kate Harker. Mrs. Harker is a warm personal friend of Mr. Hedemann, having been her guest during her last visit to the islands. The table decorations were in green and white. Mr. Hedemann is the possessor of one of the finest photographs in Honolulu and, after dinner, the guests enjoyed a musical evening, listening to selections by Caruso, Eames and Melba.

Mrs. Philip Andrews, wife of Lieutenant Commander Andrews of the Navy, left last Tuesday on the transport Sheridan, much to the regret of her many friends. This young matron has been in a whirl of gaiety for the last four months, during her visit with her parents. All of her friends were at the transport to wish her bon voyage, and her cabin was filled with books, sweets and flowers, the gifts of loving friends. As the ship cast anchor many eyes were filled with tears, for it was hard to see one so universally loved leave our sunny shores.

The many friends of Mrs. Charles Cooper will be glad to know that she is recovering after a slight operation.

A unique dinner of the week was the Japanese dinner given at the Mochizuki Club, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. J. Charles Green and Miss Lydia Gibbons of San Francisco. On the arrival of the guests, each one was requested to don a Japanese kimono and to wear sandals, both these articles being provided. Promptly at 7:30 the dinner was served, every one sitting on the floor in true Japanese fashion and eating with chopsticks, which furnished much fun and merriment. A much-enjoyed evening was spent, the party going motoring after the affair. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. J. Charles Green, Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Bockus, Dr. and Mrs. Ormond Wall, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Frazier, Mr. and Mrs. William Lent, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lyser, Miss Lydia Gibbons, Mr. Clarence Olson, Master Herbert Green and Mr. Sheba.

Mr. and Mrs. Mannie Phillips entertained informally at dinner Wednesday evening at their charming home on Kewalo street. Covers were laid for ten, and a most delicious repast was served. After dinner, an absorbing game of bridge was indulged in by some of the guests. Those fortunate enough to be included in the invitation were Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McCandless, Mr. and Mrs. Pratt of Fresno, Cal.; Judge and Mrs. A. S. Humphreys and Mr. and Mrs. Grinbaum.

Mr. and Mrs. John Cook of Manoa Valley entertained Tuesday evening at dinner in honor of Judge Williams of Vancouver, B. C.

Mrs. H. A. Pratt of Fresno, Cal., gave a delightful children's party on Thursday afternoon, at the Moana Hotel, in honor of her two little daughters. Fourteen little guests were invited. After a swim in the ocean, dainty refreshments were served under the hau tree.

Owing to the meeting of the Morning Music Club on next Wednesday morning, the first meeting of Mrs. Weaver's class in the study of the modern drama has been postponed one week. The class will meet on January 20 at Mrs. Frear's, at 10:30.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Moore, of Iowa, who have many friends in Honolulu, having spent three winters here, were through passengers on the Makura yesterday, en route to Australia. They will return to Honolulu in the spring and spend a month in this city on their way home.

Miss McIntyre left in company with her brother, Mr. Hugh McIntyre, for the Colonies yesterday. They will be gone some time.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. von Holt moved back to their city home from Waikiki during the week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Galt are planning an extended trip abroad.

Miss Josephine C. Locke, who is now visiting Honolulu, is permanently located in the Wood's cottage on Thurston avenue. She came at the earnest request of many of Honolulu's fair daughters and matrons of society who felt the need and want of the teachings of the higher broader life, the true essence of "Love your neighbor as thyself." Her opening lecture at the Courtland will be the only lecture Miss Locke will give on the Modern Drama and as it is complimentary, the committee hope all who are interested will avail themselves of the opportunity.

A surprise party was given Miss Harriet Johnson at her home on New Year's night, it being her birthday. The young people gathered at her home about half past seven o'clock. The evening was spent in playing games, which the young people enjoyed very much. Light refreshments were served later in the evening. Those present were the Misses Eva Hawkins, Lucy and Carrie Norton, Helen Bushnell, Irene Boyd, Mayme Carte, Maggie Johnson, M. Silver, Jane, Margaret, Rebecca and Josephine Johnson, Mrs. J. Boyd Jr. and Mrs. Savage, Messrs. Ziegler, Macaulay, Richard, Norton, Hingley, Boyd, Cuhns, Silver, Hawkins, Johnson, Amoy and Parker.

Call.—Mrs. E. A. Sturges, the attractive wife of Captain Sturges, U. S. A., is visiting her mother, Mrs. Agnes Montgomery, at the family home in Jackson street. Mrs. Sturges is to be the guest at a series of informal parties before her departure January 5 for Honolulu. Since her marriage more than a year ago Mrs. Sturges has been at Whipple barracks, Ariz., but Captain Sturges is to be stationed for the coming months at the new cavalry post near Honolulu. The friends of the popular young army matron are extending a cordial welcome during her brief visit here.

WHY HE MARRIED AGAIN.

A lawyer tells of a client of his—a German farmer, a hard-working, plain, blunt man—who lost his wife not long ago. The lawyer had sought him out to express his sympathy, but to his consternation the Teuton laconically observed:

"But I am again married."
"You don't say so!" exclaimed the legal light.
"Why, it seems but a week or two since you buried your wife."
"Dot's so, my friend; but she is as dead as effer she will be."

CATHEART DID NOT ANSWER

Motion to Compel Him to Confess Judgment Is Filed.

Upon the action of the Supreme Court, in dismissing the interlocutory appeal of John W. Cathcart et al., H. G. Middleditch, trustee in bankruptcy for the Chas. F. Herriek Carriage Company, has by his attorney, A. S. Humphreys, filed a motion in the Circuit Court to compel the defendants, Cathcart and his wife, to confess judgment in the suit. Cathcart appealed to the Supreme Court on a ruling on demurrer, but it appears that he did not contemplate losing there, and consequently failed to file an answer to the original bill of complaint within the required time.

By a decretal order of the Circuit Court, Cathcart was required to file his answer to the complaint within ten days after December 21. This was not done, Cathcart's attorneys going to the Supreme Court on an interlocutory appeal from De Bolt's decision overruling the demurrer.

H. G. Middleditch has also included in the motion for a decree pro confesso against the defendants, Cathcart and wife, a motion to compel Percy M. Pond, the third-named defendant in the suit, to file his answer to the complaint and answer the interrogatories thereto attached.

The following is the motion in full, as filed in the Circuit Court yesterday: H. G. Middleditch, trustee in bankruptcy of Chas. F. Herriek Carriage Co., Ltd. vs. John W. Cathcart, Mary Cathcart, wife of said John W. Cathcart, and Percy M. Pond, defendants.

Motion for a decree pro confesso, against all of the defendants other than Percy M. Pond, and to require the said Pond to answer the allegations of the bill of complaint, and the interrogatories thereto attached, instant.

"And now comes the complainant in the above entitled cause, and moves the court for a decree, pro confesso, against the defendants John W. Cathcart, Mary Cathcart, wife of John W. Cathcart, they the said defendants having failed to file an answer to the bill of complaint in said cause, although required by the decretal order of this court, duly signed and filed therein, on the 21st day of December, A. D. 1908, to answer the said bill in ten days from said date; and said complainant further moves the court for an order requiring the defendant, Percy M. Pond, to answer the bill of complaint, and the interrogatories thereto annexed, instant, or otherwise be adjudged in contempt of this honorable court.

This motion is based upon all and singular the records and files of this court, in said cause.

A. S. HUMPHREYS,
Attorney for Complainant.

To F. W. Milverton, Attorney of Record for all of Defendants.

Sir: Take notice that I will appear before the Honorable First Judge of the Circuit Court of the First Circuit, at his chambers, in the Judiciary building, in Honolulu, at the hour of 9:30 o'clock in the forenoon, on Tuesday, the 12th day of January, A. D. 1909, and then there present the foregoing motion.

A. S. HUMPHREYS,
Attorney for Complainant.

SURGEON GOT WORST OF IT

hemp appendage paused and looked at his adversary disdainfully, and then swung with his left, only to make a terrific dent in the atmosphere. Caution then became the skipper's watchword, and he displayed as much ring-generalship as Joe Gans or a young Ketchell. The medical man, however, determined to end the battle there and then, became a raging whirlwind and went after his man as a bull terrier chases a friendless cat, forcing the skipper to his corner. Queensberry rules were disregarded, and place-kicking substituted.

"The first officer arriving upon the scene, he embraced the medico and endeavored to carry him to his corner, but Pea Soup (as the men lovingly designate their captain) launched a kick at Pills which found a soft resting-place on a portion of the first officer's anatomy. This caused the mate to release the doctor, who in turn aimed a vicious right at Pea Soup's solar plexus, missed and again took the unfortunate first mate in the wind. Loud cheers from the assembled multitude drowned protests from an elderly person who had fainted at the first sight of blood and whiskers. Money freely changed hands on the outcome, one Celestial placing 100 to 40 on the bewhiskered son of Nova Scotia. The chief engineer, arriving upon the scene, blocked a terrific rush of the hero of a thousand storms, hung on to his coat with bulldog tenacity, and led old whiskers to his boudoir in anything but a spirit of amenity. The tonsorial artist of the ship soon had him rested under the influence of a good rubdown, and in the remarkable time of one hour his commanding presence was noticeable on deck with his spinach redyed and shampooed, quietly reading a volume of Benner McFadden's "Physical Culture."

"The doctor, angry at the unsatisfactory conclusion of the mill, repaired to his room, there to efface the traces of the encounter. Chief Officer Rice is still suffering from the several severe abrasions of the skin received in the clinches.

"I am reliably informed that the missionaries on board held an indignation meeting, the outcome being a petition to the Home Board of Foreign Missions to present the captain with a few works of the late Henry Ward Beecher."

"ROLLO IN HAWAII"

Dried shark, broiled (with roasted candlenut).

Roasted plantains with hard sauce

Baked bananas with lemon sauce.

Mango pie — Papaya pie — Ohelo

shortcake, Volcano House style—

Guava marmalade.

Mango plum pudding, banana sauce

Sliced sour guavas in honey.

Sliced iholema bananas with cream.

All of which, Rollo's uncle remarks,

is a dinner with flavor tropical, Oriental and Occidental all at the same time.

This wasn't so bad. Rollo did all the things in Honolulu that the guide book prescribes, but when he got away from the guide book his real adventures began.

He cut a trail from Hilo—where the book says it rains 366 days every year—to the Ka-u flow, his Hawaiian guides using machetes for the work.

He either chases or is chased by wild cattle on every page, when he isn't dodging wild boars. Then he camps in a cave on the edge of the flow and waits for things to happen. They happen.

In the night the flow gets around them and they have to cork the mouth of the cave with rocks to keep the nasty lava

out. Finally they tunnel out of this cave into another one and here they find the remains of Captain Cook—identified by the gold filling in the teeth—

and also secure evidence that the great the roof. This brought them to the edge of "Mokeawowoe," the edge of which promptly falls in as they watch, carrying their horses along with it.

Beautiful promotion stuff, this.

The writer pauses between cataclysms long enough to settle the question of why the Japanese came to Hawaii.

"The quakes remind them of their native land, and they are a cure both for homesickness and ennui. They can sing to their children, "What is home without an earthquake?"

Finally Rollo has a real adventure.

He meets a few more smugglers and runs into a missionary-hater. The latter stated that compulsory school laws,

the enforcement of the marriage laws and the establishment of schools and colleges would bring about a bloody revolution in the country. That the rule of the missionaries had been a
